Good Evening Traders.

Markets Close the week at Structure Lows. This Price Action was seen as heavy two-way Trade, meaning both prominent Sellers were active inside this range, as well as prominent Buyers.

In my Last release, I had asked for 7330 or 7460 lows to Hold. If Successful, they would be able to claim a Spike Up and if Strong at Highs, a move into ATH+.

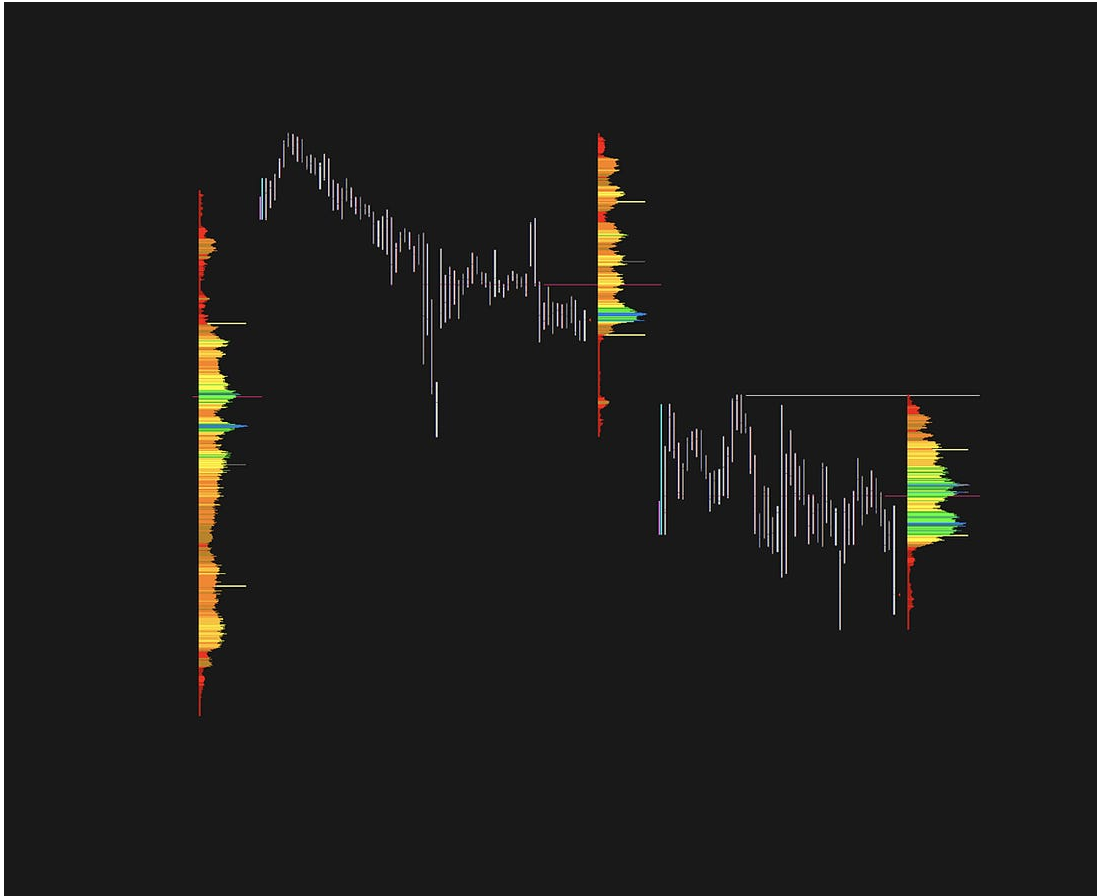

If either of these Lows Hold, I am expecting a return to ATH and Beyond.

7460 : Composite Value Area High : My Short Target from Higher.

This week spent the majority of its time Auctioning ES : 7460.

Whilst initially I had expected this Pivot to Hold True, it seems it actually needed to gather inventory at Discount before any possibilities of Higher. In fact, it even tried the secondary Target lower 7330 but was unable to breach lower.

Friday RTH was set to Open Lower. Unconvinced of Seller Strength, I played Long around the 7370 Buyers with intentions to reclaim Pivot(s) and trade Higher.

Buyers still have a tall order ahead of them, I believe they need to clear 7600 convincingly in order to maintain Structure Momentum by their side.

If Buyers are to Win this Auction, I think early in the week Longs will be successful, else the reclaim of Pivot at 7460 or 7640 will suffice a 200 - 400p move North.

If Sellers want a Chance at winning this Auction, they must defend 6400 - 6460. The Price Action at this area should reveal the answer we've been asking all month.

06/29 RTH+

Pivot : 7460

Longs to : 7640 / 7800 / [xxx]

Shorts to : 7410 / 7370 / 7150

Minor : 7330

Still seeking the resolution to see 7460 flipping to Support. This markets Passive Buyer has been quite active lately. I expect them to Initiate very soon, very sharp.
