7/8 Choir — CR

课程描述 (Curriculum Comment)

原文: The combined seventh and eighth-grade choir is expanding upon their musicianship skills from sixth grade in order to perform at a more advanced level. They are strengthening their ability to read choral sheet music, rehearse effectively as an ensemble, and prepare for upcoming performances. Instruction emphasizes refined vocal technique, including dynamic control, vowel shaping, and engaging the body to support healthy singing. Students also practice diaphragmatic breathing exercises to improve breath control and sustain longer musical phrases. In addition, singers are building sight-reading skills to help them learn new music more efficiently. During rehearsals, students follow established routines such as organizing their choir folders and marking important notes in their scores, including pronunciations, vowel modifications, and musical terminology. As preparation continues, students are working toward memorizing their music and responding to conducting gestures that indicate tempo, dynamics, and expression. The choir is preparing for both the spring concert and participation in the Seattle Heritage Choral Festival.

具体建议 (Specific Recommendations)

中文:

- 增强气息控制练习: 每天花5-10分钟进行横膈膜呼吸练习，例如吸气4秒，屏气4秒，呼气8秒，重复10次。这有助于建立唱歌所需的更稳定和持久的气息支撑。
- 有意识的元音塑形: 在练习歌曲时，特别关注每个元音的发声，可以在镜子前练习不同元音的嘴型，并录下自己唱歌的声音进行回听，与老师示范或专业歌手进行对比，以求更清晰和有支撑的音色。
- 主动寻求反馈与挑战: 在每次排练后，主动向老师询问自己在气息控制或元音塑形方面的具体表现，并请老师推荐适合提高这些技巧的练习曲或方法。设定一个目标，尝试一些略有难度的声乐练习，以培养更强的成长心态。
- 利用资源提升主动性: 确保在每节课前仔细阅读乐谱上的注释，包括发音和术语。如果对任何部分有疑问，尝试在课前或课后主动向老师提问，或与同学讨论。
- 设定小目标来培养好奇心: 选择一首你感兴趣的歌曲，研究它的作曲家和背景，并尝试理解其中使用的音乐技巧，将这些发现带入课堂讨论或与老师分享。

English:

- Enhance Breath Control Exercises: Dedicate 5-10 minutes daily to diaphragmatic breathing exercises, such as inhaling for 4 seconds, holding for 4 seconds, and exhaling for 8 seconds, repeated 10 times. This helps build the stable and sustained breath support needed for singing.
- Conscious Vowel Shaping: When practicing songs, pay special attention to the pronunciation of each vowel. Practice different vowel shapes in front of a mirror and record your singing for self-assessment, comparing it to teacher demonstrations or professional singers for clearer and more supported tones.

- Actively Seek Feedback and Challenge: After each rehearsal, proactively ask the teacher for specific feedback on your breath control or vowel shaping, and request recommendations for exercises or methods to improve these techniques. Set a goal to attempt slightly more challenging vocal exercises to foster a stronger growth mindset.
- Utilize Resources to Increase Initiative: Ensure you carefully read notes on your scores, including pronunciations and terminology, before each class. If you have questions about any section, try to proactively ask the teacher before or after class, or discuss with classmates.
- Set Small Goals to Cultivate Curiosity: Choose a song you are interested in, research its composer and background, and try to understand the musical techniques used. Bring these discoveries into class discussions or share them with your teacher.

课程描述 (Curriculum Comment)

原文: In Quarter Three, students read The Outsiders by S.E. Hinton. Students participated in Literature Circle groups to discuss the book's symbols, character development, themes, conflicts, and literary devices. Then, they created body biographies (visual representations of a character supported with text evidence) to analyze characterization. Next, students began reading Ghost Boys by Jewell Parker Rhodes. Before reading, students strengthened their research skills by using databases to explore a social justice topic referenced in the novel. Students synthesized their findings into a one-page informational sheet summarizing key facts and impacts. As we have continued reading, students have analyzed literary elements and historic context, engaged in class discussions, and developed their writing through in-class prompts. We will wrap up our work with this novel at the beginning of Quarter Four, and we are excited for Dr. Rhodes to visit Overlake on April 21st!

具体建议 (Specific Recommendations)

中文:

- 提升课堂参与度: 在每节英语课前，提前阅读指定文本，并准备1-2个问题或观点。在课堂讨论中，设定一个目标，尝试至少发言一次，可以是提问、分享见解或回应同学的观点。
- 优化文本批注和复习习惯: 培养在阅读文本时积极批注的习惯，例如在页边写下问题、总结段落主旨、圈出不理解的词汇或重要的引文。定期复习这些批注，尤其是在测验和写作任务之前。
- 主动探究并提出深度问题: 当遇到一个有趣的概念或不确定的点时，尝试追问“为什么会这样？”或“如果...会怎么样？”。可以利用课堂时间或老师的办公时间，主动与老师讨论这些深入的问题。
- 精炼证据选择策略: 在撰写论文时，不仅要选择支持论点的证据，还要反思这些证据是否是“最佳”的。尝试从不同的文本段落中选择几个候选证据，然后评估哪个证据最直接、最有力和最全面地支持你的论点所有方面。
- 利用学习伙伴进行讨论: 与一两位同学组成学习小组，定期讨论阅读材料和写作任务。在讨论中，互相提问并解释概念，这不仅能加深理解，也能练习清晰表达想法，从而提升课堂协作能力。

English:

- Enhance Class Participation: Before each English class, pre-read assigned texts and prepare 1-2 questions or points. During class discussions, set a goal to speak at least once, whether by asking a question, sharing an insight, or responding to a classmate's point.

- Optimize Text Annotation and Review Habits: Develop a habit of actively annotating texts while reading, for example, writing questions in the margins, summarizing paragraph main ideas, or circling unfamiliar vocabulary or important quotes. Regularly review these annotations, especially before quizzes and writing assignments.
- Proactively Explore and Ask Deeper Questions: When encountering an interesting concept or an uncertain point, try asking "Why is this the case?" or "What if...?" Utilize class time or teacher office hours to proactively discuss these deeper questions with your teacher.
- Refine Evidence Selection Strategy: When writing essays, don't just select evidence that supports your thesis, but also reflect on whether that evidence is the "best possible." Try to choose several candidate pieces of evidence from different parts of the text, then evaluate which one most directly, powerfully, and comprehensively supports all aspects of your thesis.
- Utilize Study Partners for Discussion: Form a study group with one or two classmates to regularly discuss reading materials and writing assignments. In these discussions, ask each other questions and explain concepts, which not only deepens understanding but also practices articulating ideas clearly, thereby improving collaborative skills.

课程描述 (Curriculum Comment)

原文: During the third quarter, students continued developing both fitness knowledge and sport-specific skills through a variety of activities. They revisited the strength and conditioning unit, applying foundational knowledge from the previous quarter to design and implement more independent workout routines. This experience encouraged greater ownership, goal-setting, and a deeper understanding of proper technique and targeted muscle groups. Students also participated in units including bowling, cricket, archery, and lacrosse. These activities emphasized coordination, accuracy, and strategic thinking while introducing both familiar and new game structures. The lacrosse unit allowed students to build on invasion-game concepts such as spacing, passing, and teamwork, while archery focused on safety, precision, and concentration. Across all units, students continued to strengthen their independence, responsibility, and ability to apply skills in a variety of physical and collaborative settings.

课程描述 (Curriculum Comment)

原文: Third quarter began with a Natural Hazards research project, where students investigated the causes, impacts, and ways to protect individuals and communities from wildfires, tsunamis, earthquakes, or volcanoes. This project allowed students to apply their understanding of Earth's dynamic processes to real-world phenomena and communicate their findings through research and presentation. We then transitioned to the Weather and Climate unit. This focuses on the driving question "Why does a lot of precipitation fall at some times and not others?" Students explored the complex interactions between temperature, pressure, and moisture in the atmosphere to explain why we have individual storms as well as why there are larger climate patterns. Students engaged in extensive modeling work in this unit. In fourth quarter, we will explore how and why our global climate is changing through data analysis and writing explanations.

中文翻译: 第三季度始于自然灾害研究项目，学生们调查了野火、海啸、地震或火山的成因、影响以及保护个人和社区的方法。该项目让学生们将他们对地球动态过程的理解应用于现实世界现象，并通过研究和演示交流他们的发现。随后，我们转向了天气与气候单元。该单元围绕核心问题“为什么有些时候降水很多，而有些时候没有？”展开。学生们探索了大气中温度、压力和水分之间复杂的相互作用，以解释为什么会有个别风暴以及为什么存在更大的气候模式。学生们在该单元进行了大量的建模工作。第四季度，我们将通过数据分析和撰写解释来探讨全球气候如何以及为何正在变化。

老师评语 (Teacher Comment)

原文: Cindy, your science writing continues to be a strength for you. You write clear and concise explanations that demonstrate your understanding. However, getting work turned in on time has been an ongoing challenge for you this quarter; you had 6 late assignments. In fourth quarter, I encourage you to focus on making sure your work is turned in on time. I also encourage you to participate more actively in class discussions. Sharing your thinking will help deepen your own understanding. Additionally, your modeling skills have room to grow. Focus on adding more details to show mechanisms and interactions. Think about what happens at the particle level, for example, or how system components connect. Strong models show the how and why, not just the what. I look forward to seeing your growth as a scientist in the final quarter this year!

具体建议 (Specific Recommendations)

中文:

- 建立作业提交提醒机制: 使用日历、手机提醒或计划本，记录所有作业的截止日期。在每个作业截止日期的前一天设置提醒，确保有足够时间完成并提交。可以尝试将大型作业分解为小任务，并设定每个小任务的完成时间。
- 设定课堂发言目标: 在每节科学课前，回顾上次课的内容或预习本次课的材料，准备至少一个问题或观点。在课堂上，设定一个目标，尝试至少主动发言一次，分享你的想法或提出疑问。
- 深化建模细节: 在进行科学建模时，不仅要展示“是什么”，更要思考并描绘“如何”和“为什么”。例如，在绘制模型时，增加箭头指示能量流向、标注微观粒子行为，或解释系统各组件间的因果关系。可以在提交模型前，自我提问“这个模型清楚地展示了机制和相互作用了吗？”
- 主动寻求澄清和支持: 当对某个概念或作业要求不完全理解时，不要犹豫主动向老师提问。可以利用课间休息、课后或老师的办公时间进行简短的交流，或通过邮件寻求帮助。

- 积极参与小组协作: 在小组活动中, 除了完成自己的部分, 尝试主动与组员讨论, 分享你的写作优势帮助他人, 并积极听取他人的建模建议, 共同提升团队成果的质量。

English:

- Establish an Assignment Submission Reminder System: Use a calendar, phone reminders, or a planner to track all assignment due dates. Set reminders the day before each due date to ensure ample time for completion and submission. Try breaking down large assignments into smaller tasks with individual deadlines.
- Set a Goal for Class Participation: Before each science class, review previous material or preview upcoming content, and prepare at least one question or idea. During class, aim to proactively speak up at least once to share your thoughts or ask a question.
- Deepen Modeling Details: When engaging in scientific modeling, go beyond illustrating "what" and focus on depicting "how" and "why." For instance, when drawing models, add arrows to indicate energy flow, annotate the behavior of microscopic particles, or explain the causal relationships between system components. Before submission, ask yourself, "Does this model clearly show mechanisms and interactions?"
- Proactively Seek Clarification and Support: When you don't fully understand a concept or assignment requirement, do not hesitate to proactively ask your teacher. Utilize break times, after class, or teacher office hours for brief discussions, or reach out via email for assistance.
- Actively Engage in Group Collaboration: In group activities, beyond completing your own part, try to actively discuss with group members, share your strengths in writing to help others, and actively listen to their modeling suggestions to collectively improve the quality of the team's output.

原文: This quarter, students continued building their geographic thinking across three major regional units. We wrapped up our Europe unit by examining the diverging paths taken by former Soviet countries since the Cold War, exploring how political history shapes a region's present. In our Southwest Asia and North Africa unit, water scarcity served as our central lens. Students researched the competing water needs of Nile River nations and participated in a negotiation seminar, working to craft a real-world-style water-sharing agreement. We also analyzed major cities of the region as windows into broader regional identity and culture. To close the quarter, we launched our Sub-Saharan Africa unit through a series of case studies. In Nigeria, students traced how geography and colonial history explain the country's current population pyramid, then debated policy solutions in a seminar focused on Nigeria's potential demographic dividend. In the Congo, students investigated the global cobalt supply chain — from colonial exploitation under Leopold to the smartphones in our pockets today — producing an original infographic and written analysis. We also began our third case study, examining how South Africa and Rwanda have approached reconciliation in the aftermath of apartheid and genocide. In Q4, we head to Asia, complete our world map assessment, and explore a unit on human rights.

了解更广泛区域身份和文化的窗口进行分析。为了结束本季度，我们通过一系列案例研究启动了撒哈拉以南非洲单元。在尼日利亚，学生们追溯了地理和殖民历史如何解释该国当前的人口金字塔，然后在一个侧重于尼日利亚潜在人口红利的研讨会上辩论政策解决方案。在刚果，学生们调查了全球钴供应链——从 Leopold 统治下的殖民剥削到我们今天口袋里的智能手机——并制作了一份原创信息图和书面分析报告。我们还开始了第三个案例研究，考察了南非和卢旺达在种族隔离和种族灭绝后如何实现和解。在第四季度，我们将前往亚洲，完成我们的世界地图评估，并探索一个关于人权的单元。

老师评语 (Teacher Comment)

原文: Cindy, your work speaks for itself — you are organized, hardworking, and the quality and consistency of what you turn in makes it clear that you genuinely understand the material at a high level. The one thing I want to keep nudging you on is finding small moments to let that understanding show up in class discussions. You clearly have a lot to offer and your classmates and I would benefit from hearing your thinking more often. No big concerns here, just a small challenge heading into Q4 to look for your spots and take them when they come.

中文翻译: Cindy，你的工作成果不言自明——你很有条理，勤奋努力，你提交的作业质量和一致性表明你对材料有很高的真正理解。我希望继续督促你的一件事是，在课堂讨论中寻找小机会，让你的理解展现出来。你显然有很多可以分享的，你的同学和我都将从更频繁地听到你的想法中受益。这里没有大问题，只是在第四季度面临的一个小挑战，即寻找机会并抓住它们。

具体建议 (Specific Recommendations)

中文:

- 设定课堂发言目标: 在每次社会研究课前，提前预习当天主题，并准备至少1-2个可以在讨论中分享的观点或问题。在课堂上，设定一个目标，尝试主动举手发言至少一次，即使只是简短的评论或提问。
- 利用“思考-配对-分享”策略: 当老师提出一个问题或讨论点时，先花一分钟独自思考并写下你的想法，然后与邻座同学分享，最后尝试在全班面前分享你或你们组的想法。
- 提升口语表达自信: 可以在家对着镜子练习用证据支持你的观点，或者向家人或朋友解释一个社会研究概念。练习用清晰、简洁的语言表达复杂思想。

- 积极寻求老师反馈: 考虑到“主动性和寻求支持”评级为“Rarely”且“口语表达”技能为“Developing”，学生应主动利用课后或办公时间与老师讨论如何更有效地参与课堂讨论以及提升口语表达能力。
- 结构化笔记辅助讨论: 在课堂上，不仅仅是听讲，还要积极做笔记，记录关键概念和你的疑问。在讨论环节，利用这些笔记作为提示，帮助你组织思路并更自信地发言。

English:

- Set a Goal for Class Participation: Before each social studies class, preview the day's topic and prepare at least 1-2 points or questions that can be shared in discussion. During class, set a goal to actively raise your hand and speak at least once, even if it's a brief comment or question.
- Utilize the "Think-Pair-Share" Strategy: When the teacher poses a question or discussion point, first spend a minute thinking individually and jotting down your thoughts. Then, share your ideas with a partner, and finally, try to share your or your group's ideas with the whole class.
- Boost Oral Expression Confidence: Practice at home by explaining social studies concepts to family members or friends, or by practicing articulating your arguments with evidence in front of a mirror. Focus on expressing complex ideas clearly and concisely.
- Actively Seek Teacher Feedback: Given the "Initiative and seeking support" rating of "Rarely" and the "Speaking" skill being "Developing," the student should proactively use after-class time or office hours to discuss with the teacher how to participate more effectively in class discussions and improve oral communication skills.
- Structured Note-Taking for Discussion: In class, go beyond passive listening by actively taking notes, recording key concepts and your questions. During discussion segments, use these notes as prompts to help organize your thoughts and speak more confidently.

课程描述 (Curriculum Comment)

原文: This quarter students expanded on their study of school life to include the broader experience of life for kids in the Spanish-speaking world. In class we watched and worked with several documentaries and short films (Amor de lata, Bienvenidos, Academia de Bachata and Quinceañera), each of which lent a unique window into the lives of peers from around the Spanish-speaking world. As a class we also read and worked with Carla no habla, a Spanish graphic novel for beginning learners about a teenage girl in Ecuador who suffers from selective mutism following a move to a new school. For the past month we have participated in the annual Locura de marzo song competition, through which students gained exposure to current music in Spanish from a variety of countries and genres. In terms of grammar, this quarter students built upon their understanding of regular -AR verbs introduced last quarter to learn conjugations for regular -ER and -IR verbs. We also learned conjugations for the irregular verb estar (and contrasted its uses with ser, taught in first quarter). Having now been introduced to all regular conjugation patterns in the present tense, and with many opportunities in class each day to read, hear, write and speak in Spanish, students have been working hard to increase their communicative skills at the Novice-mid level, and beyond.

《Bienvenidos》、《Academia de Bachata》和《Quinceañera》），每一部都为我们了解西班牙语世界各地同龄人的生活提供了独特的窗口。作为一个班级，我们还阅读并学习了《Carla no habla》，这是一部为初学者编写的西班牙语图画小说，

讲述了一个厄瓜多尔少女搬到新学校后患上选择性缄默症的故事。过去一个月，我们参加了年度“三月疯狂歌曲比赛”（Locura de marzo），学生们通过该比赛接触到了来自不同国家和流派的西班牙语流行音乐。在语法方面，本季度学生们在上一季度学习的规则-AR动词的基础上，学习了规则-ER和-IR动词的变位。我们还学习了不规则动词“estar”的变位（并将其用法与第一季度教授的“ser”进行了对比）。现在，学生们已经接触了现在时的所有规则变位模式，并且每天在课堂上有很多机会阅读、听、写和说西班牙语，他们一直在努力提高他们的Novice-mid（中级初学者）及以上水平的交流技能。

💬 老师评语 (Teacher Comment)

原文: Cindy, you are making steady progress in Spanish and demonstrate excellent focus and work ethic in class. You are always on task and collaborate effectively with any classmate you're paired with, which shows maturity and flexibility. While you tend to be quiet during day-to-day class discussions and are hesitant to volunteer, I've been impressed by how confidently and clearly you speak during formal speaking tasks like the Cultivo una rosa blanca poem recitation and partner skits. This shows that you have strong speaking abilities! As we head into the final quarter, I encourage you to take more risks by volunteering during class activities and conversations. Sharing your voice more often will help build your confidence and push your Spanish skills even further. Keep up the great work!
